

EX-MAYOR FLORIAN BOYD DIES TODAY

Succumbs at Age 54 At Desert Hospital

City Councilman and ex-Palm Springs Mayor Florian G. Boyd died at 7:45 a.m., today, at Desert Hospital, where he was recuperating from gall bladder operation. He was 54 years old.

According to Boyd's physician Dr. P. A. Staley, there was no forewarning of the fatal pulmonary embolus, and local doctors were ready to release him from the hospital.

DR. STALEY SAID, however, that the embolism or blood clot was not a result of the operation which was performed 10 days ago; "in fact he was doing very well, and this hit like a bolt of lightning."

Boyd had a long and important civic career in Palm Springs having come to the desert in 1935. He opened his accounting firm in this city at that time and had operated it since then.

HE WAS CURRENTLY serving his third term on the Palm Springs City Council, and followed Charles Farrell as mayor until he resigned the seat last year.

He was born in Lexington, Ky., and was a graduate of Colorado College in 1927 with a degree of AB in business administration and banking.

During World War II he served in the U.S. Navy.

ASIDE FROM HIS position as a city councilman, Boyd was extremely active on the board of directors of the Desert Hospital, and he was a member of the first Community Hospital Association. He was active in promotion of the first hospital in Palm Springs, even before the start of the present hospital district.

During his years in Palm Springs, he served as president of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, Community Hospital Association, Lions Club, and many other organizations. He had always been active with the Desert Circus Association and a number of local charity drives.

CLOSE FRIENDS and associates of Boyd, still shocked by the news of his sudden death, today regarded his passing as "a tragedy for the City of Palm Springs."

"It's a shame that the city should lose a man who worked so hard for its progress," said Councilman Leonard Wolf. "It is a real tragedy for the city and Florian will be missed by all its citizens. I can't think of anyone else who had Palm Springs so much at his heart."

SHELBY LANGFORD, acting city manager, remarked that he was "stunned by the news" and expressed his feelings of a "personal loss."

Coroner's Jury Blames Death On 'Highway'

A coroner's jury yesterday brought in a verdict in the death of Marine Sgt. DuWayne David Bly, who was killed early Saturday morning in an automobile accident, charging that the mishap happened because of an improperly marked public highway."

The jury, in session at Wiefels and Son Mortuary, said that the sergeant "died of injuries sustained when the vehicle in which he was riding as a passenger, operated by Cpl. Larry Pollard, 21, left the highway and overturned. We, the jury, find this accident was due to an improperly marked public highway."

The automobile, which was apparently traveling at a high rate of speed, hit a flooded portion of North Indian Avenue and skidded out of control, investigating officers reported. There were no warning signals or flares out on the flooded area, but maintenance men put them up about an hour after the accident.

Two More Atomic Tests Held Today

Third Explosion Scheduled This Afternoon

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UPI)—Two full-scale atomic devices were exploded within hours today at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada Test Site.

American scientists, speeding up their experiments after weather and technical delays, triggered shot Wrangell above Frenchman Flat at 8:50 a.m. (p.s.t.), following a detonation called Socorro in a scheduled triple-feature of weapons development tests on a single day. The third shot was scheduled for 3 p.m. (p.s.t.).

SOCORRO WAS MORE spectacular as it burst in darkness on nearby Yucca Flat at 5:30 a.m., casting its light as far as Los Angeles, 300 miles away. But Wrangell cracked the daylight air with almost equal violence.

Today's first shot was the 10th in the AEC's current series, and it flashed with the explosive force of 10,000 tons of TNT. Its blast was heard as "a very loud crack" at the control point. Observers also heard it at St. George, Utah, and Boulder City, Nev.

WRANGELL, THE 11th in the experiments, flashed at "something less than one-half nominal," or under 10,000 tons of explosive. Wrangell's cloud boiled up in pursuit of Socorro's smoke drifting to the northeast.

Both shots dangled beneath balloons at 1,500 feet in clear, almost freezing skies. Frenchman and Yucca Flats adjoin each other, with low hills separating the test grounds.

The second explosion this morning was the 30th nuclear firing within the continental limits of the United States.

SOCORRO'S FIREBALL failed to touch the ground but gave off an ominous rumble that was described by the AEC as the most prolonged of the series in which explosive yields purposely have been held "greatly below" totals for other experiments.

Observers 11 miles from ground zero, however, felt Socorro's intense heat for nearly 10 seconds.

CABAZON Mayor Talant with a brisk 4-1 vote — including the ex-mayor's own affirmative ballot.

Talant, whose controversial reign over this tiny desert city recently erupted with his arrest on a county morals charge, likewise cast a "yes" vote for the appointment of his successor.

Councilman Ian Smith immediately succeeded Talant as mayor in rapid-fire voting order at a special council session.

Councilman Clayton White

opened the "fire Talant" ball with a motion to accept a resignation submitted by the mayor last April. The motion passed with one dissenting vote, cast by Councilman H. O. Hicks.

END OF DEMUTH PARK as a favorite gathering place for Village visitors was signalled this week as workmen started removal of the tall palm trees to the site of the new city offices and police station. A controversy over the letting of the contract for removal of the palm trees has been temporarily delayed until City Manager R. W. Peterson returns from a convention in Boston, Mass. A hearing had been scheduled tonight before the City Council, with Roy Wehrle of Wehrle's Nursery charging that he had been the low bidding, with Peterson awarding the contract to Neel's Nursery. Wehrle also charged that his bid, as released by the city manager's office, was increased by $130, and Joe Leonard, another bidder, said his was increased by $150. Peterson, in letting the contract to Neel, second-ranked bidder by figures released, had permission from council to let the contract to the "lowest responsible bidder." The park is being cleared as the new site for City National Bank. (Desert Sun Photo).

To Carry Balloon Into Orbit

Rated as Most Spectacular Yet Launched

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, said today that the Army will attempt to launch its fourth Explorer satellite tonight.

He said the satellite will carry an inflatable sphere.

Medaris, who is chief of the Army Ordnance Missile Command, confirmed reports of a new satellite effort to newsmen at the annual meeting of the Association of the U.S. Army.

HE SAID HE WAS "sorry" that the scheduled attempt became known but the report was "correct."

He would not say the exact time the launching is scheduled except that "I wish it was earlier."

That was a reference obviously to the fact that the launching will come late tonight and Medaris like many others, will have a vigil into the early morning hours Thursday while awaiting word on the launching's success.

THE ARMY HAS previously attempted to launch five satellites and has succeeded in putting three of them into orbit.

Tonight's effort will be to put a shiny 12-foot balloon into orbit at an altitude of about 400 miles.

It will be the most spectacular looking satellite yet launched by the U.S. and should be brightly visible to the naked eye.

THE BALLOON satellite will be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla. It will be thrust into space by a Jupiter-C booster with extra stages. A metal carrier, constituting the fourth and final stage of the rocket, will eject a 9.2 pound deflated balloon. The balloon, made of plastic and coated with aluminum, will be automatically inflated after ejection.

FROM THE WAY the balloon with its large surface reacts to the braking effect of the thin spread air molecules, scientists will be able to determine accurately atmospheric densities at the altitudes at which it travels.

The total weight of balloon and carrier is about 40 pounds.

When the carrier reaches its highest altitude after it has completed about half an orbit, a small extra rocket will be fired to kick it out higher and farther. The purpose is to assure a long life to the balloon.

The visits are suspended during the summer months, and there is an urgent need for donors at this time, hospital officials said.

District GovernorRotarians Hear Of Achievements

Rotary Clubs in 110 countries and geographical regions throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace.

That was the message of Robert Y. Hollingsworth of Escondido, governor of District 534 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Palm Springs at the Chi Chi yesterday, following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen.

IN ADDITION TO the activities of the more than 9,000 Rotary Clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Hollingsworth explained, Rotary International has awarded grants of more than $2,600,000 in the past 11 years through its program of student fellowships, which enable outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will.

Since 1947, when this program was established, 1,076 Rotary Foundation Fellowships have been awarded to students in 43 countries.

THE FOLLOWING Rotary Foundation Fellowships have been awarded from this district in the past eight years: 1950-51, Donald S. Barnhart of San Diego; 1953-54, William A. Seavey of Coronado to Graduate Institute of International Studies at Geneva, Switzerland; 1957-58, Dorothy M. Hatch of El Centro, to Seul del Teatro dell'Opera "la Scala," Milan, Italy.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for 464,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of different nationalities or languages or political and religious beliefs," the Rotary district governor emphasized.

"IN ADDITION TO the promotion of international understanding," Hollingsworth continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary clubs in this district, which includes 42 Rotary clubs in Southern California on individual club activities devoted to youth activities, such as sponsorship of track meets, baseball and football events, boys clubs; better understanding between business and professional men, promoting community betterment undertakings, and raising standards of business and professions."

Hollingsworth urged the local Rotarians to attend the Rotary district conference to be held in Coronado in March 1959 and to make plans for the club to be well represented at the 50th annual convention, to be held in New York City next June.

Backstrand's a Call for Economy Study Supported by Assembly Speaker

Prompt action loomed this week on a State legislative interim committee study "to find ways to save money instead of seeking out possibilities of new state taxes" following a recent call for such action by Riverside County Assemblyman L. M. "Lee" Backstrand.

In a recent letter to Luther H. Lincoln, speaker of the State Assembly, Backstrand said he felt this "economy" action was especially important at this time since the state divisions and departments are now in the process of making up their 1959-60 budgets. Work of existing departments might be consolidated, he pointed out, to thus effect economies.

Backstrand was one of the leaders in the "economy bloc" at the last legislative budget session in Sacramento and helped hold the line on increases in the state budget, refusing to vote for expenses not covered by existing revenues.

In reply to Backstrand's insistence upon the study of methods for economy instead of new taxes,

Speaker Lincoln wrote this week as follows:

"You have always been very ap-roach to our problem, and again

I compliment you for this. I am forwarding your letter to Assemblyman Caspar Weinberger, chairman of our Committee on Government Organization with the request that his committee give full consideration to your idea."

Padua Housewarming Fetes Birthday of Small Daughter

By RAFAELA MARMALEJO V.

On the night of the estreno (housewarming) for the home of senior Romeo and Lula Padua at 4356 Camino San Miguel, una mesa (a table) of food was in the dining room con (with) such food as roast pig, steamed rice denagon (fried chicken), sweet and sour gravy, and everything served Filipino style.

In the garage they had una barra (a bar) from where you were servidos (served) your favorite drink.

El mismo dia (on the same day) was their baby Virginia Felipa's birthday, do modo que (so they) had two occasions to celebrate, and para (in order) not to break the tradition of the birth cake, it was brought out with its gleaming candles, y fueron (and were) extinguished by the celebrant, and everyone sang a "Happy Birthday," and helped consume the cake. Con los ninos (children) asleep, music started playing and parejas (couples) started dancing, and . . . this way ended a beautiful evening.

Among those enjoying the delicious food and tasteful tomas (drinks) were: Pete Dias and Herbert Jasaland from Los An-

This is the time of the year . . . that we find Angelenos coming down to Palm Springs to cool off (as they did last week) . . . but it won't be long until they will be coming for the kind of sunny days we are enjoying this week . . . Cards are coming in from late travelers . . . and we are still trying to catch up with news of who got married this summer . . . and who is planning what for a season that is already in acceleration with UN background . . .

Frankie (Mrs. Leo) Spitz was in Europe this summer attending the United Nations conference in Brussels which was held in the Belgian Senate Chambers . . . Among the other 200 delegates from all over the world were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Paul Hoffman, Professor Holcomb of Harvard, Dr. Rufus Clement of the University of Atlanta . . .

It was Mrs. Spitz's ninth year as a delegate . . . Delegates are elected to the office . . . as a representative of the United Nations Chapters throughout the country or as Mrs. Spitz prefers to term it . . . representing "We, The People" . . . She served first as an advisor on Motion Picture Relations . . . but has shifted her interest to Communications as she feels that it is through newspapers, magazines, television and radio that better understanding will be brought to the people of the world . . .

Ruth Hardy who's been using pumice (it doesn't smell) on the Ingleside lawns . . . has a lawn just as green and just as pretty as any in Palm Springs . . .

I asked her if she felt United Nations was accomplishing anything in promoting World Peace . . . and she answered simply enough . . . that it is the only thing being done in that direction . . . that it is not a Frankenstein but a meeting together of delegates from 81 nations to discuss world problems . . .

She agreed that the nations of the world will have to come to a police force to enforce the laws . . . she said "It's like sending the fire brigade . . . when an alarm sounds . . ."

There are 20-some Charters of World Federation of United Nations Association in Southern California . . . and Mrs. Spitz hopes to form one here . . . primarily for the purpose of disseminating information . . . United Nations chairman for various Palm Springs organizations might easily form the nucleus for such a world trip from Palm Springs back to Palm Springs, covering nine thousand miles entirely in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Friendly had a long and delightful stay in the islands of Hawaii and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Camp closed the meeting with an account of their social good times in their home at Idyllwild.

Anyone wishing to contribute usable items should telephone Mrs. Frank Ewing at FA 5-5445, who will arrange to have them picked up.

Garden Club Talks About Vacations

Palm Springs Garden Club held its first meeting of the season on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Manington. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Jerry Bunker, Mrs. D. H. King and Miss Gladys McClure.

Participating chapters, in addition to Sigma Gamma, are Tau Sigma of Palm Springs, Sigma Theta and Phi Alpha Xi of Indio, Upsilon Alpha of Twenty-nine Palms, and Upsilon Delta of Joshua Tree.

Presiding at the meeting will be Vivian Allchin of Sigma Theta, president of the Desert Cities Council. During the business meeting, members will discuss entering a float at the Indio Day Festival, and the Christmas dance to be held December 13 in Indio.

Members took over the meeting for the day by recounting their experiences of the past summer. It would seem the Palm Springs Garden Club scatters to the far corners of the earth during the summer months.

Dr. and Mrs. Fifield (Dr. Fifield is this year's Club president) had many interesting experiences in the course of their extended trip to the Polynesian Islands. Mrs. Alvin Weingarten told of the beauties and customs of the Bermudas, while Mr. and Mrs. Fay Braithwaite made a sort of round-the-world trip from Palm Springs back to Palm Springs, covering nine thousand miles entirely in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Friendly had a long and delightful stay in the islands of Hawaii and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Camp closed the meeting with an account of their social good times in their home at Idyllwild.

Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Walter hosted a small party last night at their Manzanita Drive home, entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Lee Palmer and Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Huffman.

Early in November the Walters expect his father E. R. Walter down from Seattle for a two-month visit.

Frances Upchurch left Friday by train for an extended vacation trip, with plans to visit relatives in Texas and Alabama before going to Florida.

On the return journey she will visit relatives in El Paso and Phoenix.

Today Vic and Bud Graves started driving across country headed for Manhattan and the first New York showing of paintings under the O.E.L. Graves signature . . .

Rev Ryan and Elsie Mae McRae have co-sponsored the show . . . and Ray may fly east for the show which opens November 4 in the John Heller Galleries at 63 East 57th Street . . . Flo and Walley Brummar, too, will go east for the show . . . Wally made important contacts for Bud . . .

Elmer G. Leterman (that fabulous salesman who visited here a year or so ago) will entertain for the Graves . . . hosting a cocktail party at the Algonquin's Rose Room on November 2 . . . After the show which closes November 22 . . . they will go to Norwich, New York where they will be

One of the big parties of the Palm Springs social season . . . will find Mary Hurrell the center of attention . . . for she has bought that black Auntie Mame dress . . . designed by Marusia . . . One of the most exciting of the entire wardrobe . . . it should be terrific on Mary . . .

Col. and Mrs. Edward Banning have invited a small group of friends . . . to join them for a cocktail buffet at their home at 333 Crestview on the evening of November 1 . . .

Victor and Frances LaPorte's home is the nephew of Tony Cosenito who were married September 27 in Chicago . . . have been honeymooning here at the Cosenito home . . . They will be heading this weekend . . . Grace Cosenito goes into the hospital for surgery early next month . . . and then she and Tony will be heading for Palm Springs for her convalescence . . .

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defeat of that which it believes to be wrong

Knight Is THE Standout Candidate for U.S. Senator

The ability, integrity, energy and effectiveness demonstrated by Goodwin J. Knight throughout his long career of public service as judge, lieutenant governor and governor have earned the admiration of this newspaper.

Under his competent leadership, California has met and solved the manifold problems occasioned by its tremendous population growth.

In fact, the continued growth and progress of this state is a tribute to the Governor's dedication to the free enterprise system, and his resolute determination to provide in California an economic climate conducive to business expansion and full employment.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon summed it up the other day when he said that under Governor Knight's administration California was "one of the best governed states in the United States."

The wisdom, experience, and broad knowledge of all California and its problems gained by Governor Knight make him the logical choice for United States Senator.

We urge you to vote for Knight for Senator.

Knight is a standout candidate — a forthright fighter for the things that are best for all California. We know of no one who could better represent California in the Senate.

Certainly his opponent does not match up to Knight.

California is fortunate that a man of Knight's stature is available for election to the United States Senate. This newspaper is proud to endorse him and to urge his election.

The Arizona Contest

PHOENIX, ARIZONA — In a manner of speaking, Senator Barry Goldwater (R., Ariz.) is fighting both the Underworld and the Other World for his re-election.

In the Underworld, there are the criminal elements of the Labor Movement, the goons and racketeers who dread the return of Goldwater with added seniority to the McClellan Committee.

In the Other World, there is Goldwater's Democratic opponent, Governor Ernest McFarland, who is jocularly known as the Gray Ghost because of his elusive and unsubstantial campaign tactics.

GOLDWATER IS catching the worst of both worlds, the Under and the Other. Top Labor leaders are opposing him on the principle that conservatives and States Righters are not good for Big Labor. But the bitterest opposition comes from shady characters with skeletons in the closet who fear and hate him.

With costs what they are today, the item of automobiles is recognized as a big factor. Union members are supplying many carriers. It is a pleasure to report that the students of the Arizona State College at Tempe are putting 2,000 of their own cars in service to get out the vote.

THE GESTURE IS not pure altruism since the State College has a self-interest proposition on the ballot, but it is none the less welcome. All non-union cars can be estimated as a net gain for Goldwater, whose forces concede that the Democrats will get 40,000 voters of the State House and Labor Temple crowd to the booths.

BUT TO HIS CREDIT, McFarland has no hesitancy about meeting the people. His best expects to score many votes among registered Democratic and union members. Both Goldwater and McFarland recently visited the town of Parker, which has a registration of 800 Democrats and 200 Republicans.

YUMA COUNTY, which contains Parker went Democratic by 3,000 votes against the Eisenhower landslide of 1952. But a head count at the rival meetings showed that the Senator outshined the Governor by better than 4 to 1.

This is not an inaccurate index of the Arizona election. The State is heavily Democratic by registration. The turn-out for the primary elections was 55 per cent of the eligible. If the November election pulls no more than this, the party vote would favor McFarland.

BUT COLONEL Barry Goldwater, a handsome jet pilot from a pioneer family and with a long record of civic service, has the energy and civic as well as a good name and stainless reputation in the Senate. He seems sure to generate a turnout in his favor. He needs something like 70 per cent to overcome the Democratic bulge.

Governor McFarland, who is past 60 while the Senator is under 50, has everything to gain by remaining inconspicuous and almost incomunicado. As the Gray Ghost, his image appears on numerous television clips, but another voice speaks the lines for him. He shuns major political addresses and personal encounters with the Senator.

LET'S TELL ABOUT his trip although we're stepping into the realm of Hilda Crawford.

Goldwater likes the challenge, saying: "I put the United States first." — Holmes Alexander

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been in debt over his ears for the entire 18 years of our marriage. He's worked steady and makes good money. Right now we have four bills in the hands of collectors, and they have threatened to repossess our furniture. We have two impending law suits for back payments and we've had our telephone and water disconnected and the electricity would have been, but our child was sick when the electrician came. He owes $1000 to a loan agency and is trying to borrow more. Does my husband sound like a normal man with the responsibility of a family? What can I do with him?

MRS. O.: Your mother is NOT square — she is round a she is sound. Better to walk alone than to be in the company of questionable companions.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is about religion. My father won't let me accept a date with a boy who is not of my own faith. I am only 16 years old, Abby, but I think I have pretty good sense. I wouldn't turn away from my own religion for any boy, but how can I convince my father that just because I have a few dates with a boy of a different faith it doesn't mean I am going to marry him? VOTED DOWN

DEAR VOTED: As long as you feel strongly about your own religion, why tempt the fate and complicate your life? Do yourself a favor and confine your dates to boys you could marry directly from his employer and give your husband carfare and lunch money.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and my mother and I had a heart to heart talk. She told me I should tell her everything. Well, I told her everything and now she won't let me go around with my best girl friend because she says she is wild and is a bad influence on her mother. If you can't get her to talk to a psychologist, a clergyman or just any mature person with horse sense, she'll have to learn the hard way.

Too Many Ghosts in Gallery

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Age and a gallery of ghosts sent Juan Manuel Fangio into retirement today.

The five-time champion of the auto racing world called it quits because the exhilaration of winning "turned into a burden of mere fatigue." But there was more to it than that.

The 47-year-old Argentinian admits that he sees too many spectators on the sidelines.

"In the last 10 years more than 20 of my racing comrades died behind the wheel," mourns the balding, paunchy man who many consider the greatest race driver of them all. "Our reunions nowadays look like gatherings of war veterans who try but cannot forget those who never came back."

Fangio had more than a quarter-century of it, which is many more years than most of them survived. Working by candlelight, he built his first "monstrosity" out of spare parts when he was only 20 to launch his driving career. It was nine long, desperate years before he won his first race.

There are two classes of drivers. The first is composed of the "lead foots," the dare-devils who know no other way except to "put their foot through it." Then there are the "safe and sure" ones, who know every inch of their cars and drive with their heads as well as their hearts.

Fangio started as the former and became the best of the latter, turning racing into a cold and calculated science. He walked the track for hours, inspecting the turns and searching for danger spots. The week before a race he was in bed at 10:00 p.m. every night, training with the fervor of a prize fighter.

It was formula which produced racing's greatest success story. Despite the encroaching years, Fangio won them all, and kept right on winning. So great was his fame that last February, before a Cuban race, he was kidnapped from his Havana hotel by Cuban rebels because they knew it would gain them world-wide attention.

"But now I am tired in body as well as spirit," he says in announcing his retirement in Thursday's Sports Illustrated. "I have always thought of my car as not as a cold machine but as a hot-blooded horse, racing with the rider in one beautiful, harmonious unit."

"As for me," he concludes, "the rider has grown older and more blase than the horse."

That feeling, plus the gallery of ghosts, told him it was time to go-walking.

YOU GOTTA HAVE BRAINS

Football Getting More Complicated These Days

By HAL WOOD

United Press International
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It takes a brain trust to run a major league college or pro football team these days.

If the coaches aren't Phi Beta Kappas, they at least should have Masters degrees in psychology, skull-duggery and chicanery.

Every week some coach comes up with what he thinks is a new gimmick that will throw the law of averages—above and beyond good tackling and blocking—to his side.

This week, for instance, coach Bill Barnes of UCLA has "something special" planned to use against Stanford. Last week Barnes introduced a flanker with the single-wing formation—and in addition spread the ends, which was also something new.

"WE GOT SOMETHING new in mind ourselves," replied coach Jack Curtice of Stanford, "but it is a secret . . . off the record."

Eighteen State Propositions Set for Decision by Voters November 4th

(Editor's note: This is the last of five dispatches outlining the candidates and issues in the November election in California.)

By JERRY REYNOLDS
United Press International

I WILL VOTE 'NO' on 16

because tax-free education is a vital part of the American way of life. Every state in the nation exempts church-supported schools from taxation. Why should California violate this American tradition?

The Rev. Harry A. Dykstra
Christian Reformed Church
(Paid Political Advertisement)

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — On every ballot in the Nov. 4 election will be 18 state propositions on which each voter may give his stand. The first four of these, if approved, would put the state in debt $700 million dollars.

All 18 involve major policy decisions by the voters.

THE FIRST FOUR are proposed bond issues to provide money for farm and home loans to California veterans and construction of schools, state buildings and harbors. All but 200 million dollars of the total—the state building construction funds—will be repaid by the project supported and not from general tax money. These plus the last three propositions, Nos. 16, 17 and 18, are of prime public interest. The last three involve taxing non-profit schools, a sales tax cut, and the so-called right to work labor issue.

HERE'S A RUNDOWN, by number, on the propositions of prime interest:

1. Called the veterans bond act of 1958, this provides a bond issue of $300 million dollars to furnish low-interest loans to California veterans for farm and home purchases.

2. Calls for a bond issue of $20 million dollars to provide state loans to local school districts to build new school buildings.

3. Provides a bond issue of $20 million dollars to pay for state construction of colleges, mental hospitals, prisons and other facilities.

4. CALLS FOR A $60 million dollar bond issue, $50 million of which would go for development of San Francisco Harbor and the other $10 million for financing the development of small craft harbors throughout the state.

16. An initiative measure qualified for the ballot by petition of the voters. This calls for the taxation of property of religious and other private, non-profit schools except those for the blind, retarded or handicapped. Such private schools now are exempt from taxation on Sunday and Memorial Day.

17. AN INITIATIVE sponsored by the California Federation of Labor, which would reduce the state sales tax from three to two cents on the dollar, cut the state income tax on lower incomes and raise state income taxes on higher incomes.

18. This is the right to work initiative. It "prohibits employers and employee organizations from entering into agreements which establish membership in a labor organization, or payment of dues or charges of any kind thereto, as a condition of employment or continued employment," according to the official ballot explanation.

THE OTHER 11 propositions, by number on the ballot, includes these:

5. Permits the Legislature to fix the salaries of its members. This is now done by a vote of the people.

6. Provides that any proposed state bond issue laws must be published in at least one newspaper in at least 50 counties. These are now published in the state ballot pamphlet.

7. PERMITS THE Legislature to enact special laws in the event of wartime disaster to fill vacant offices and designate emergency seats of government.

8. Permits new residents of California to vote for president and vice president if they have resided here for at least 54 days. They may not do so until they have lived in California for a year.

9. Eliminates the 30-day recess during general sessions of the Legislature on every odd-numbered year.

GOURMET PILLAR

By LORNE CORSAUT

Are you a coffee lover? It seems most people are. However, few know, or care, about the great differences in the brewing or the quality of coffee.

Do you remember the old fashioned grocery stores that always had the delightful aroma of freshly ground coffee pervading the place? Not any more, it usually comes in cans.

Of course there are many methods of making coffee, from the old fashioned pot, where you had to use egg shells to clear it, to the Italian Espresso machine. There are drip, percolator, filter and other methods in use. Then there are the Armenian and Turkish method for truly strong thick coffee and the French coffee where half milk is used.

Sale's Markets of course carry most of the standard brands of coffee, but they have two or three that are outstanding and are especially recommended for your consideration. I would say that Sexton's brand is one of the best. The Sherman brand carries the name and endorsement of Mr. Sherman Sexton. It is a blend of fine coffees such as a rich Maracaibo, winey Bogotan, selected Mexicans and blended with fine Santos. The Sexton coffee is served in many of the finest hotels and clubs.

Martinson's coffee are also rated around the top for quality and comes in all grinds.

Huggins-Young's coffee are very well known and popular in Southern California and their Mocha Java blend is excellent. This coffee is available in the bean.

All of these coffees are a little higher in price than ordinary brands, but less coffee is needed even for more strength. Personally, I maintain that the best cup of coffee can be made by grinding the bean just before use. Put the special Chemex filter paper in the Chemex pot, add one coffee measuring cup for each person and add distilled hot water slowly.

The Chemex coffee pot is simple to use and your coffee is always absolutely clear, with no sediment possible. Chemex and the filter paper are available at Sale's markets.

Two Injunctions Asked of Council

Palm Springs Planning Commission has asked that the City Council approve the filing of two injunctions against local people.

The first, as listed by City Planning Director Hy Ranes, is the filing against Don Castle, the Red Barn, on Highway 111 or East Palm Canyon Drive, for failure to comply with the city variance code asking for the installation of curbs and gutters in front of the hotel.

Second was an injunction against a "public dump" in an R-1 district in an exclusive part of town. The land is located on Via Olivera and is owned by Mildred and Leon La Fond.

Ranes pointed out that normally the fill being used on the lot might be all right, but on a ruling from City Building Inspector Jack Sanders the fill is so bad that a building permit cannot be issued on the lot.
